Tutelo Nahysson Tribal Nation

Tribal News

From time to time we know that things appear grim and it may seem that we are fighting an uphill battle. As we look at our ancestors, their fight was never easy, they battled onward and continued to fight and have their voices heard through the uncertainty of an ever changing social climate that took away dignity and the hopes of prosperity from a peoples settled and content in the world and beauty around them.

So too we must endure the opposition, confusion and the overwhelming discouragement, that confront us each day. However, we move ever forward to change the ethnic climate in a society that encompasses diversity as hope. Stay strong as we progress.

Respectfully

Tutelo Nahysson Tribal Council
